

The Annual Convention is the flagship event of the department which brings academicians, policy makers, industry experts and professionals together to share their views on some of the most important and thought provoking topics pertaining to the current economic scenario. Their interaction with our students takes the process of knowledge exchange and enhancement outside the close confinement of the classroom and provides a platform for future managers to learn from the some of the best minds in our nation.

The Convention Committee is responsible for organizing this event. Right from conceptualizing the theme of the Convention to coordinating with the distinguished speakers – all the logistics are taken care of by the committee. Under the guidance of a faculty member, the team organizes the Annual Convention which is the highlight of the Department's calendar.

The annual publication of the department "The Business Economist" is also launched on the occasion of the Annual convention which features research papers and articles relevant to the convention theme. The journal is circulated among a large number of business houses, professionals, academicians and business schools.

Past speakers include eminent personalities like Dr. Kiran Bedi, Mr. HR Khan (Deputy Governor, RBI), Mr. Som Mittal (President, NASSCOM), Shri Nalin Surie(Former Indian High Commissioner to UK) among others.

The theme for the 42nd Annual Convention (Year 2015) was "Embracing Adaptability- Honoring The Past, Seizing The Present, Shaping The Future". The chief guests for the event were Dr. Ashok Gulati (Infosys Chairperson for Agriculture, ICRIER) and Miss Swati Maliwal (Chairperson , DCW). In addition to The Business Economist, the event also witnessed the unveiling of an edited volume in honour of Dr. Deepa Saran (a faculty member who retired recently), titled "Contemporary Issues in Trade, Environment and Policy" and edited by Dr. Ananya G. Dastidar and Dr. Yamini Gupt."
